INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors of
Central Massachusetts Agency on Aging, Inc.
West Boylston, Massachusetts

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Central Massachusetts Agency on Aging, Inc. (CMAA) (a nonprofit organization), which comprise the statement of financial position as of September 30, 2014, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of CMAA as of September 30, 2014, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Other Matters

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements as a whole. The accompanying schedules of activities by program, Title III-B subgrantee expenses, and revenues by program on pages 14-16 are presented for the purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the financial statements. The accompanying schedule of expenditures of federal awards, as required by Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated January 22, 2015, on our consideration of the Organization's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the Organization's internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

Report on Summarized Comparative Information

We have previously audited Central Massachusetts Agency on Aging, Inc.'s 2013 financial statements, and our report dated January 23, 2014 expressed an unmodified opinion on those audited financial statements. In our opinion, the summarized comparative information presented herein as of and for the year ended September 30, 2013, is consistent, in all material respects, with the audited financial statements from which it has been derived.

CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS AGENCY ON AGING, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
SEPTEMBER 30, 2014

1. Nature of Activities and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies:

Nature of Activities:

Central Massachusetts Agency on Aging, Inc. (CMAA) is a private non-profit corporation whose purpose is to provide leadership, resources, coordination of services and advocacy for elderly people and their families. The corporation concentrates, but not limits, its efforts to central Massachusetts. To accomplish this, CMAA allocates federal funds to outside programs for nutrition, ombudsman, caregiver support and other supportive services. CMAA receives its funding from the federal government, State of Massachusetts, and corporate and individual contributors.

Basis of Accounting:

CMAA prepares its financial statements on the accrual method of accounting in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles; under this method revenue is recognized as it is earned versus when received, and expenses are recognized as the obligations are incurred versus when paid.

Basis of Statements:

CMAA reports information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: unrestricted net assets, temporarily restricted net assets, and permanently restricted net assets.

Comparative Financial Information:

The financial statements include certain prior-year summarized comparative information in total but not by functional expense category. Such information does not include sufficient detail to constitute a presentation in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Accordingly, such information should be read in conjunction with CMAA's financial statements for the year ended September 30, 2013, from which the summarized information was derived.

Cash:

Cash consists of cash in interest and non-interest bearing depository accounts and cash on hand.

Grants Receivable:

The amount due from grantors represents revenue contracted for the current year that was not received prior to September 30, 2014. Based on management's evaluation of uncollected accounts at the end of the year, bad debts are provided on the allowance method. The allowance for doubtful accounts as of September 30, 2014 was $0. There is no finance charge assessed on overdue grant receivables.

Donated Services:

Donated services are reflected as contributions and in-kind expenses in the accompanying statements at their estimated values on the date of receipt.

CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS AGENCY ON AGING, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
SEPTEMBER 30, 2014

Estimates:

Management uses estimates and assumptions in preparing financial statements. Those estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, and the reported revenues and expenses. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Expense Allocation:

The costs of providing various programs and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the Statement of Activities and in Statements of Functional Expenses. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated between programs.

Investments:

Investments in marketable securities with readily determinable fair values are reported at their fair market values in the statement of financial position. Investment income (including gains and losses on investments, interest and dividends) are included in the change in net assets in the accompanying Statement of Activities.

Property and Equipment:

Property and equipment are recorded at cost. Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred, whereas major acquisitions are capitalized as additions to property and equipment. Depreciation of property and equipment is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets. CMAA maintains a capitalization policy for assets over $1,000 coupled with a useful life of three years or more. Items not meeting the capitalization criteria are expensed in the year of acquisition.

Subgrantee Payables:

Subgrantee payables represent amounts payable to subgrantees at September 30.

Nonprofit Status and Income Taxes:

CMAA is exempt from income taxes as an organization (not a private foundation) formed for charitable purposes and is tax-exempt under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Donors may deduct contributions made to CMAA within Internal Revenue Code regulations. CMAA is subject to federal and state tax on income from any unrelated business.

CMAA has adopted the recognition requirements for uncertain income tax positions. Income tax benefits are recognized for income tax positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return, only when it is determined that the income tax position will more-likely-than-not be sustained upon examination by taxing authorities. CMAA has analyzed tax positions taken for filing with the Internal Revenue Service and all state jurisdictions where it operates. CMAA believes that income tax filing positions will be sustained upon examination and does not anticipate any adjustments that would result in a material adverse affect on CMAA's financial condition, results of operations or cash flows. Accordingly, CMAA has not recorded any reserves, or related accruals for interest and penalties for uncertain income tax positions at September 30, 2014. CMAA policy is to classify income tax related interest and penalties in operating expenses.

CMAA is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress. CMAA's federal and state income tax returns are open to examination for the last three years.

2. Public Support – Federal and State Funding:

The following is a brief description of the major public support of the CMAA:

- A. The Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Executive Office of Elder Affairs, has multiple agreements with the CMAA to pass through federal monies to fund various program costs. Under this funding source, the following services are provided:

Title III-A - The administrative portion of the Title III grants provides funding for the operations of the CMAA, including salaries, benefits, occupancy and other administrative costs.

Title III-B - Supportive services including medical transportation and crisis intervention.

Title III-B Ombudsman - Funding for an ongoing Ombudsman program. Ombudsmen are trained by the State and represent clients in long-term care facilities.

Title III-C - Nutrition programs for congregate and home delivered meals for the elderly.

Title III-D - Funding for programs dealing with health promotion, disease prevention and medication management.

Title III-E - Funding for programs dealing with family caregiver's support.

- B. CMAA has a subcontract with the Department of Health and Human Services for NSIP funding through the Executive Office of Elder Affairs. Subgrantees participating in the Title III-C funding qualify for NSIP reimbursements based upon the number of meals served.

3. Property and Equipment:

Property and equipment consisted of the following at September 30, 2014:

| | | |
|-------------------------------|--------|-------------------------|
| Equipment | $ | 48,950 |

4. Investments:

Fair Value of Measurements

The Financial Accounting Standards Board provides the framework for measuring fair value. That framework provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under FASB ASC 820 are described as follows:

- Level 1 Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the plan has the ability to access.
- Level 2 Inputs to the valuation methodology include
- quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets;
 - quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets;
 - inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability;
 - inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means.

If the asset or liability has a specified (contractual) term, the level 2 input must be observable for substantially the full term of the asset or liability

- Level 3 Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurements

The asset or liability's fair value measurement within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair value. There have been no changes in the methodologies used at September 30, 2014.

Mutual Funds: Valued at net asset value (NAV) of shares held by the plan at year end.

The preceding methods described may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, although the Organization believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value or certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS AGENCY ON AGING, INC.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING AND ON COMPLIANCE AND OTHER MATTERS BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the Board of Directors of
Central Massachusetts Agency on Aging, Inc.
West Boylston, Massachusetts

We have audited, in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, the financial statements of Central Massachusetts Agency on Aging, Inc. (CMAA) (a nonprofit organization), which comprise the statement of financial position as of September 30, 2014, and the related statements of activities, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements, and have issued our report thereon dated January 22, 2015.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements, we considered CMAA's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) to determine the audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of CMAA's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Organization's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses may exist that have not been identified.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether CMAA's financial statements are free from material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Purpose of this Report

The purpose of this report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the organization's internal control or on compliance. This report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the organization's internal control and compliance. Accordingly, this communication is not suitable for any other purpose.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE FOR EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE REQUIRED BY OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the Board of Directors of
Central Massachusetts Agency on Aging, Inc.
West Boylston, Massachusetts

Report on Compliance for Each Major Federal Program

We have audited Central Massachusetts Agency on Aging, Inc.'s (CMAA) compliance with the types of compliance requirements described in the OMB Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that could have a direct and material effect on each of CMAA's major federal programs for the year ended September 30, 2014. CMAA's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs.

Management's Responsibility

Management is responsible for compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to its federal programs.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on compliance for each of CMAA's major federal programs based on our audit of the types of compliance requirements referred to above. We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about CMAA's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion on compliance for each major federal program. However, our audit does not provide a legal determination of CMAA's compliance.

Opinion on Each Major Federal Program

In our opinion, CMAA complied, in all material respects, with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on each of its major federal programs for the year ended September 30, 2014.

Report on Internal Control Over Compliance

Management of CMAA is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above. In planning and performing our audit of compliance, we considered CMAA's internal control over compliance with the types of requirements that could have a direct and material effect on each major federal program to determine the auditing procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing an opinion on compliance for each major federal program and to test and report on internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over compliance. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of CMAA's internal control over compliance.

A deficiency in internal control over compliance exists when the design or operation of a control over compliance does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program on a timely basis. A material weakness in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance, such that there is a reasonable possibility that material noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. A significant deficiency in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program that is less severe than a material weakness in internal control over compliance, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control over compliance was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control over compliance that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over compliance that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses may exist that have not been identified.

The purpose of this report on internal control over compliance is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over compliance and the results of that testing based on the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. Accordingly, this report is not suitable for any other purpose.
